Sanah Qasem

NHS Doctor, Aesthetic Dr, Clinical Director & Principal Trainer at Derma Medical.

London, England Metropolitan Area

Summary

Dr Sanah Qasem is a full-time NHS Doctor and Aesthetic injector performing the latest basic and advanced treatments with neurotoxins (Botox), Dermal fillers, Silhouette one stitch and PDO thread face lifts, skin rejuvenation/peels and aquaplasty/ intralipotherapy body sculpting treatments.

She divides her aesthetic work between her busy Derma Medical Clinics in London Harley Street, and is the Clinical and Educational Director at the Derma Medical Training Academies in London, Manchester, Sweden, Dubai and Australia where she travels regularly.

Dr Qasem previously worked for the UK's leading Aesthetic company - Transform Cosmetic Surgery Group in London and is a member of the Medical Education Committee for the world leading Aesthetic manufacturing company - Teoxane. In addition to that, she is a Key opinion Leader for the Medical Aesthetic Company Intraline.

Dr Qasem graduated from medical school with distinctions and has been awarded prizes for academic and clinical excellence, as well as receiving merits for Teaching and Leadership from South Thames Foundation school. Alongside this, she has been chosen twice as the Teaching lead for trainee doctors across trusts in South East England. It is her experience in clinical education with her knowledge and passion for Aesthetic medicine that has led her to become the principal Trainer at Derma Medical Training Academy, where she teaches over 25 different aesthetic treatments to medical professionals at the Royal College of General Practitioners in London, Manchester, Sweden, Australia and Dubai.
